

Web site is a reflection of your company's identity.

Online sales can be a way in which you increase your company profit.

IF YOU DON`T HAVE WEB SITE - YOU DO NOT EXIST

Globalization, Internet development and telecommunications have influenced economy all around the world. Presence on the Internet today is one of the most crucial success factors at the market, regardless of company volume or its activity.

Visiting your site, clients will be assured that they have an opportunity to do business with professionals in their respective domains. Internet business is not complicated; here is what you have to do:

Have Your Own Domain

Do not let anybody else to register the title of your company or product on Internet because the registration of the domain is pretty cheap. When your company puts the site on the domain like www.yourcompany.com, it ultimately looks reliable to the clients, and it provides your new market spot, too.

Create Your Site

Investing into web site, you will not be limited to your town any longer, but your company will easily and swiftly become available everywhere in the world. Web site is the reflection of your company and anybody who has Internet could visit it, regardless of distance, working hours or number of visitors.

Open Your Own e-mail

Fax is becoming the past, e-mail becomes the standard everywhere in the world because it provides downloading of music, pictures and video, beside text. But, pay attention because it is commonly known that yahoo, hotmail and google e-mail address can be opened by anybody, therefore people don't have lots of trust in these addresses. Once you have your own web site and domain, your employees can communicate within the company (employee@yourcompany.com), and this is your first step to building trust of clients toward your company.

Product Catalogue

Next step is presentation of your products or services on web site. Beautiful design, indicated price, mandatory utilization of images, video and sound are major factors observed by your buyers.

Finding customers

If you observe your site only as a form of brochure, then you do not know all options it has to offer. Active promotion of your products on your own or other sites, as well as regular informing of your clients may easily create new contacts and business partners or strengthen contacts with existing buyers and partners.

Internet sales

There is a lot of ways to cash your services over web site starting from post office, payment notice to mobile phone payment, through call centers and credit cards.

Quality hosting

All this, you can achieve with minimal investments, but it is very important that your site should always be visible for visitors from all around the world, that e-mail is active and reliably functioning and that you have support when you need it. Thus it is important for you to select good hosting company which guarantees safety of your business.

Adriahost will be by your side every step of the way.
